To Mr. Brubaker

To a man whose sincere belief in people in his most outstanding characteristic, we would like to express our appreciation. This concern and caring for people has manifested itself in his tireless efforts as a teacher, coach, and class advisor.

Best known to Juniors, he is remembered most favorably for the days we spent in class discussing what was important to us, if insignificant in American History. So, to you, Mr. Brubaker, with thanks, we the Class of 1972 dedicate our yearbook.

Marlene Tenden, a graduate of B-G, is spending this year in Norway under the sponsorship of the Bainbridge Rotary Club. Marlene can often be found bicycling and hiking in the scenic hills surrounding the seaport of Drammen. She has had the opportunity to travel to neighboring cities in Norway and spend Christmas in Germany. She plays her trumpet in the town orchestra, belongs to a girls club, takes dancing lessons, and plays basketball.

Elizabeth "Liz" Hengeveld is spending her junior year abroad in Nagasaki, Japan. She is also sponsored by the Bainbridge Rotary. She is attending the Kwassi High School and is one of a thousand girls. The school requires a uniform which consists of a pleated skirt, suspenders, blouse, and scarf-with each class wearing a different colored scarf. Among Liz's studies are Flower Arranging, Karate, Kato-a musical instrument, and the Tea Ceremony. Included in Liz's new likes are raw fish, octopus, and riding streetcars.

Mari, our ray of

For the past six years, the B-G student body has been sponsoring a foster child from South Viet Nam. He is the member of a family of ten. He has five brothers and three sisters. He writes in his letters that his family is presently safe from the disasters currently happening in his country.

Duc is now attending a vocational school. We wish him the best of luck!

This year Bainbridge-Guilford extends a welcoming hand to Mari Shimizu, a foreign exchange student from Japan. Mari was born in Oita, Japan but now lives in Nagasaki. Mari is seventeen years old and is a junior at B-G. Mari's activities include chorus, drawing and painting, and girls intramurals. We wish the best of luck to Mari, and we hope she has enjoyed her stay here as much as we have enjoyed having her.

S.F.A. Puts Thoughts Into Action

Student Faculty Administration Council

1971-72 S.F.A. Chairman:
Rick Delello

Our New Student Government

The 1971-1972 school year has seen the initiation of a new school government at B-G. Being the first year, it was of utmost importance that the government functions smoothly and efficiently. In that manner the government will have a sturdy foundation for future years.

The new government is made up of four committees. They are the Student Faculty-Administration Council, the Student Court, the Student Services Committee and the Cultural Committee.

The Student-Faculty-Administrative Council (SFA) is made up of five students, five faculty members, and two administrators. The SFA is an advisory board that oversees the operations of the other groups.

The Student Court is a judicial body made up of eleven students which functions much as the courts of our nation do, to deal with student misbehavior.

The Student Services Committee is made up of eleven students also, and assumes the duties the student Council had in the past.

The final member is the Cultural Committee which is also made up of eleven students. The Committee provides the school with a full schedule of assemblies for the year.

The 1971-1972 SFA was one of the most productive student governments we have had in recent years. With continued support, our new school government can be far more successful than any government we've ever had.

'Cause We're Second We Try Harder

The dreamy eyes of wonder.

I can't believe I ate the whole thing.

Who'd of ever thunk it?

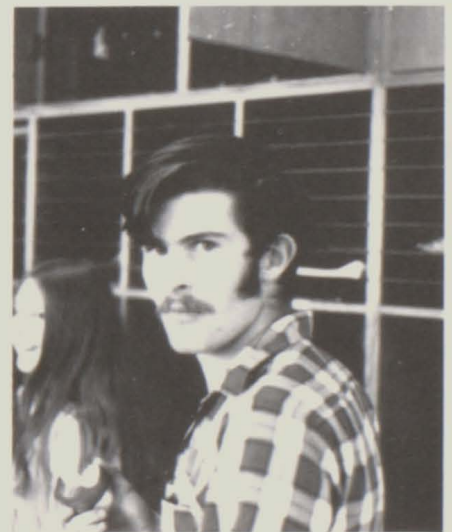

Stars and Stripes Wearever

What a catch!

The bashful maiden's sidelong looks of love.

Reverend Hale! Eating the forbidden fruit?

It was then that the fox appeared.

"Good morning," said the fox.

"Good morning," the little prince responded politely, although when he turned around he saw nothing.

"I am right here," the voice said, "under the apple tree.

"Who are you?" asked the little prince, and added, "You are very pretty to look at."

"I am a fox," the fox said.

"Come and play with me," proposed the little prince, "I am so unhappy."

"I can not play with you," the fox said. "I am not tamed.

"Ah! Please excuse me," said the little prince.

But, after some thought, he added:

"What does that mean - 'tame'? I am looking for friends. What does that mean - 'tame'?"

"It is an act too often neglected," said the fox. "It means to establish ties."

"To establish ties?"

"Just that," said the fox. "To me, you are still nothing more than a little boy who is just like a hundred thousand other little boys. And I have no need of you. And you, on your part, have no need of me. To you, I am nothing more than a fox like a hundred thousand other foxes. But if you tame me, then we shall need each other. To me, you will be unique in all the world. To you, I shall be unique in all the world . . ."

"I am beginning to understand," said the little prince.

"My life is very monotonous," he said. "I hunt chickens; men hunt me. All the chickens are just alike, and all the men are just alike. And, in consequence, I am a little bored. But if you tame me it will be as if the sun came to shine on my life. I shall know the sound of a step that will be different from all others. Other steps send me hurrying back underneath the ground. Yours will call me, like music, out of my sorrow. And then look: You see the grain fields down yonder? I do not eat bread. Wheat is of no use to me. The wheat fields have nothing to say to me. And that is sad. But you have hair that is the color of gold. Think how wonderful that will be when you have tamed me! The grain, which is also golden, will bring me back the thought of you. And I shall love to listen to the wind in the wheat . . ."

The fox gazed at the little prince, for a long time.

"Please - tame me!" he said.

"I want to, very much," the little prince replied. "But I have not much time. I have friends to discover, and a great many things to understand."

"One only understands the things that one tames," said the fox. "Men have no more time to understand anything. They buy things all ready made at the shops. But there is no shop anywhere one can buy friendship, and so men have no friends any more. If you want a friend, tame me . . ."

So the little prince tamed the fox. And when the hour of his departure grew near -

"Ah," said the fox, "I shall cry."

"It is your own fault," said the little prince. "I never wished you any sort of harm; but you wanted me to tame you . . ."

"Yes, that is so," said the fox.

"But now you are going to cry!" said the little prince.

"Yes, that is so," said the fox.

"Then it has done you no good at all!"

"It has done me good," said the fox, "because of the color of the wheat fields."

"Goodbye," he said.

"Goodbye," said the fox. "And now here is my secret, a very simple secret: It is only with the heart that one can see rightly; what is essential is invisible to the eye."

"What is essential is invisible to the eye," the little prince repeated, so that he would be sure to remember.

"Men have forgotten this truth," said the fox. "But you must not forget it. You become responsible, forever, for what you have tamed."

Pick a card, any card!

Mrs. Gutter, I made a getter ball!!

To buy or not to buy ...

So that's what she called me!

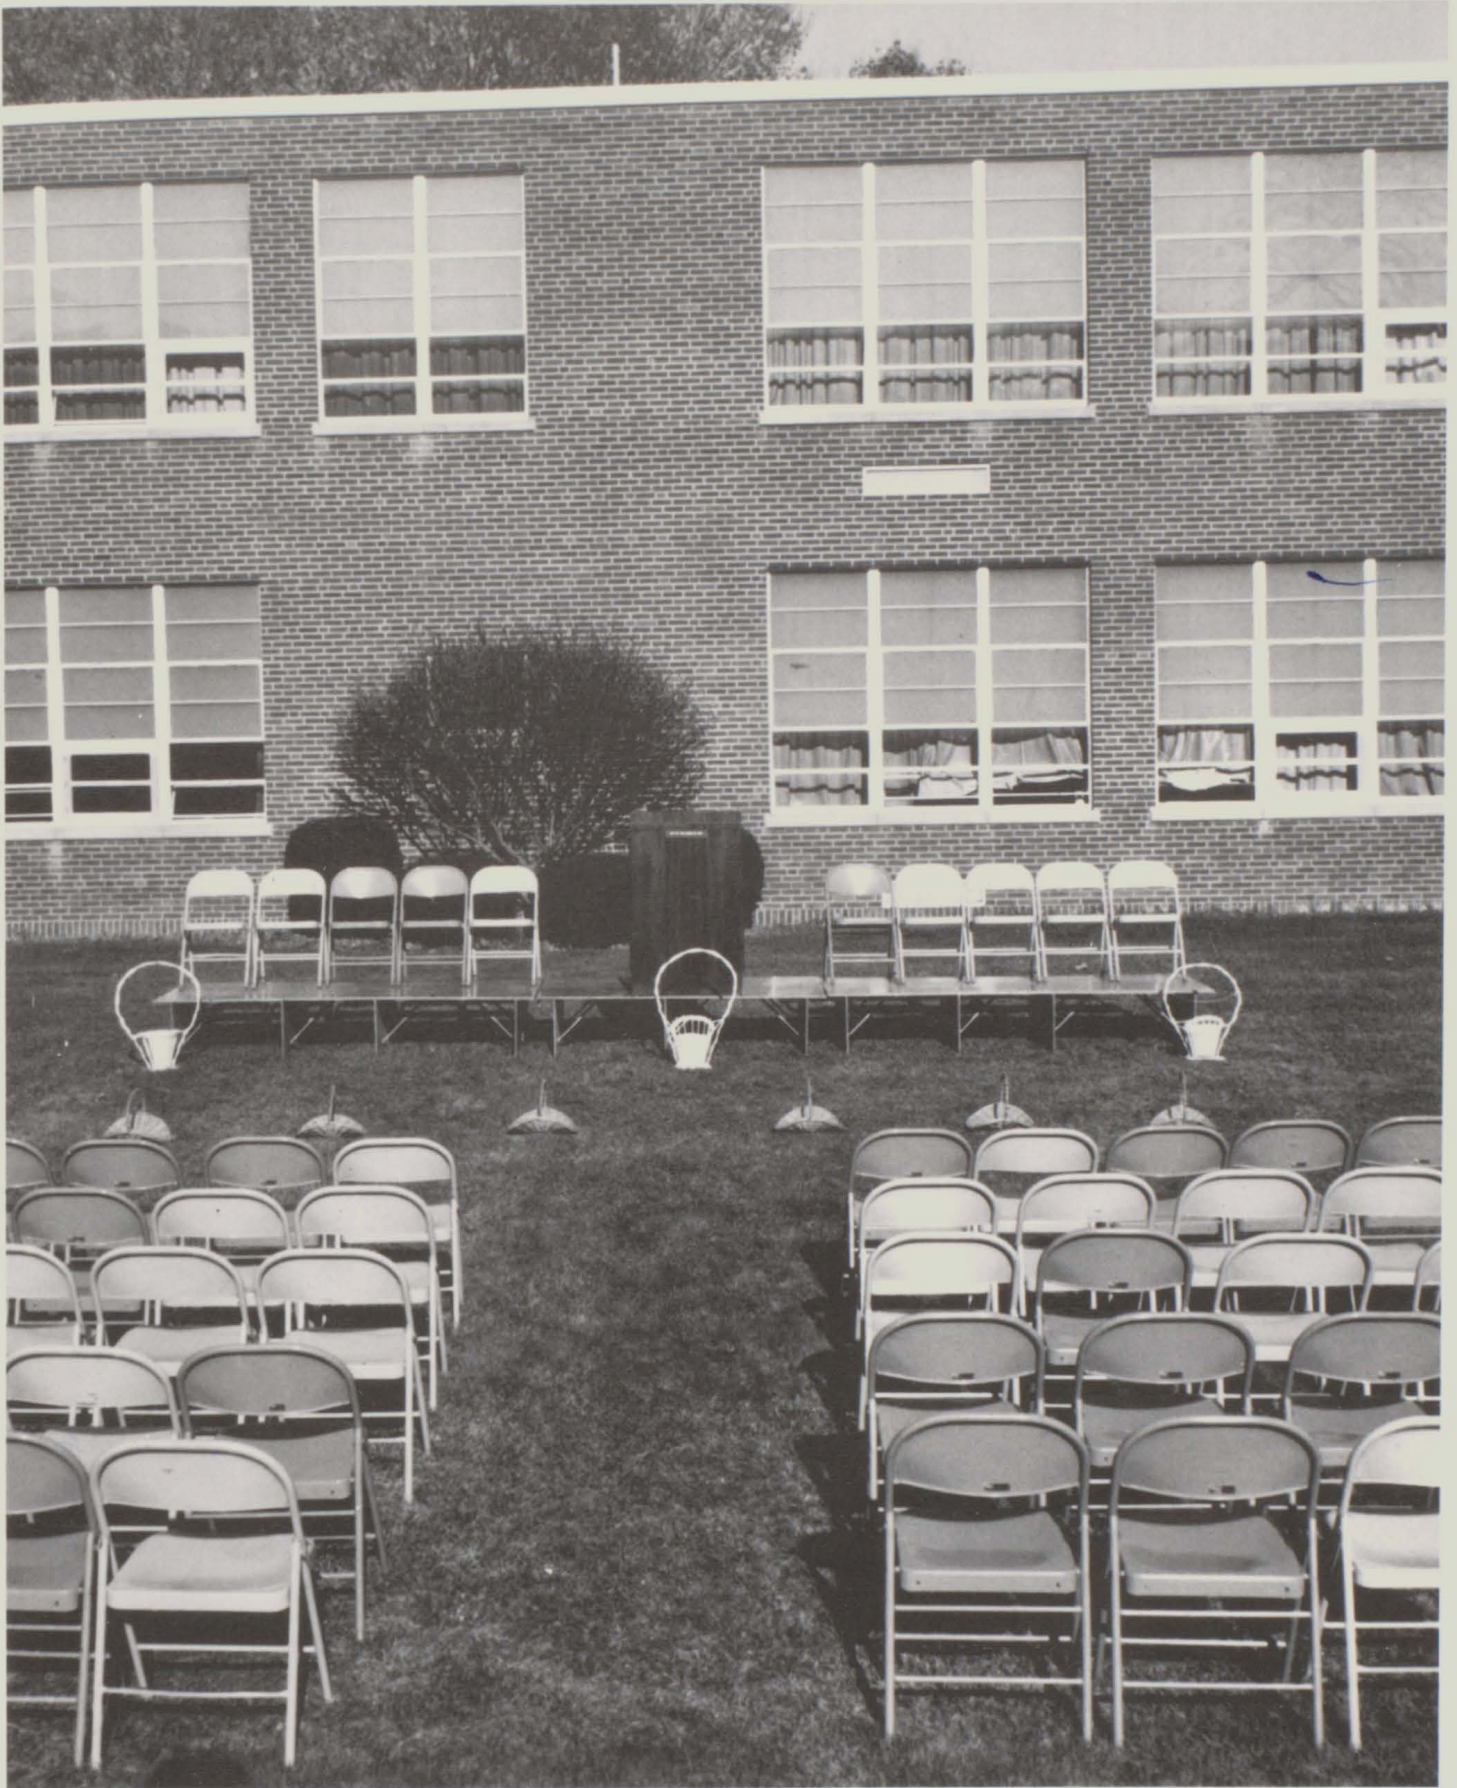

You don't say!

Pick another card, any card!!
