ECHO

Throughout this book, you will find various types of interaction between students and teachers, be it in the classroom, in their favorite activities, or sporting events. Through winter, spring, summer, and fall, you'll find the B-G spirit alive and well, with everyone always willing to "expect the unexpected!"

ONE MAN, MANY FACES

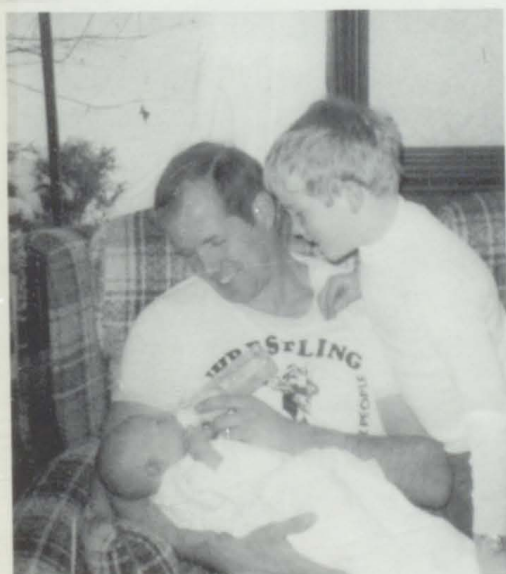

Jody Hughes

From Health class to Phys. Ed., Mr. Hughes has kept Bainbridge-Guilford in good shape for 19 years! He was born in Sidney on November 16, 1945, and attended school in Gilbertsville. During school he played football, basketball, baseball and volleyball. In 1963 he graduated, moving on to East Stroudsburg State College in Pennsylvania, where he got his B.S. in Health and Phys. Ed.

After teaching in Edmenston and Oneonta, he finally came to B-G, willing to conquer the challenging territory of working high school students into some sort of physical shape, and teaching the tenth graders about the "Facts of Life." Having four children of his own (Tammy, 23; Jason, 19; Jared, 12; and Ashley, 1), Mr. Hughes understands the frustrations and insanity of being a teenager. His ever-familiar anonymous letters in the "question box," his willingness to help out when you have any sort of problem, and his leading of the Girls' Tennis team to victory are just a few ways in which Mr. Hughes has touched us all.

Remember, with Mr. Hughes, you have to be ready to "Expect the Unexpected!"

SENIORS

Row 1: Casey Perry, Secretary; Tonya Ives, Treasurer; Sarah Crouch, Corresponding Secretary. Row 2: Esta Georgia, Vice President; Chad Puffer, President.

The class of 1991! Thirteen years ago, we first stepped forth into the halls of the Bainbridge-Guilford schools. Young, naive and curious, we faced the new frontier with enthusiasm. After nine years, reaching the age of questioning EVERYTHING, we entered high school, uncertain of what lay ahead.

Now, 4 years later, having journeyed through high school, it's time to choose the direction of our future. The feelings of unsureness are even stronger, but one lesson we've learned from our high school experience is to be prepared and "EXPECT THE UNEXPECTED."

Underclassmen

What exactly does that mean?
Most of the time we are:

“under” the driving age.

“under” the supervision of our teachers.

“under” social pressures.

“under” the watchful eye of our parents.

“under” great stages of change physically and emotionally.

“under” the pressure of academics and sports.

And most noticeably we are “under” the Seniors.

Balancing Work and Play

by . . .

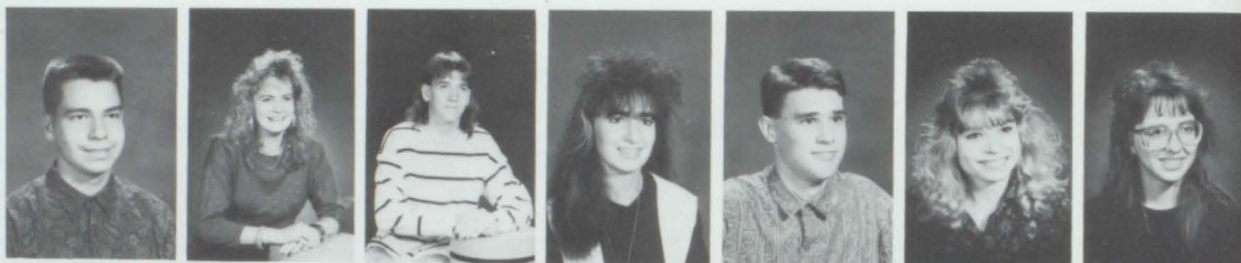

THE CLASS OF 1992

The Junior year of High School is one of the toughest years students face. Not only is it tough academically, but it's tough to begin making the decision of whether or not to go to college, join the Armed Services, or join the work force right after graduation. If students choose college they must decide which college they want to go to, which subjects they want to study, and usually they begin to investigate the colleges of their choice.

Juniors must work hard, but at the same time they enjoy themselves. Hard work is necessary in Varsity sports and in the classes of Social Studies 11, Course III, English 11 and Chemistry, especially for Regents students. Fun, however, is obvious to juniors when the time for the prom comes. There is a lot of work involved in planning the prom, just ask the people involved, but in the end everyone has a great time. By the end of the year juniors have proved they can "Balance Work and Play."

The Year of the Class Ring for . . . THE CLASS OF 1993

As Sophomores, students begin the year more mature and more confident, mainly because they are no longer considered "little freshmen." Now students are more outgoing and feel more comfortable in B-G activities such as clubs and sports.

There are many influential aspects students face as sophomores. There are tougher classes, such as biology which tests students' ability as well as stomachs — especially when it's time to dissect rats. Students often establish lasting friends and social circles in their sophomore year. These friends become a very important part of life, and are people who influence and share both the good and bad experiences of high school. The sophomore year is a time when many students get to purchase their class rings. It's these rings which will forever symbolize the experiences we all face, not only in our sophomore year, but in our entire high school career. Basically, the Sophomore year is one remembered as the "Year of The Class Ring."

A Look Toward The Future by... THE CLASS OF 1994

Freshman year is a time for many changes. It signals the end of childhood and the beginning of adulthood. It's a time when freshmen start to make decisions that will affect the rest of their lives. They start to think about what careers they are interested in, and plan their high school sequences around them.

In their first year in the Senior High, freshmen start to develop their own personalities, and each uniquely becomes a member of our B-G upper class. For the first time they can try out for JV sports, join Sr. High music organizations, and get to take the ever so dreaded Regents Exams. It's a year that many will remember as the year of social studies with Mr. Arotsky, and the ever so frequently heard phrase, "Don't Be Ethnocentric!"

Overall, the freshman year is a time when change is usually looked upon as good, because it signifies that they truly are growing up and taking a "Look Toward The Future."

The Long Wait of . . . THE CLASS OF 1995

The eighth grade is noted by relief and anticipation. Eighth graders feel relief in no longer being the youngest students at B-G. They are relieved in the fact that they begin to know more people, and be known by more people. They make more friends, and start to feel secure at B-G. As eighth graders, students begin to have more privileges and opportunities, for example, being chosen as prom servers.

The eighth grade is also an anticipation period. Students anticipate advancing from Jr. to Sr. High as freshmen. They anticipate the recognition of being a Sr. High student by the next generations in Jr. High. No matter how much fun students have in the eighth grade, they often acknowledge the eighth grade as "The Long Wait."

The Trials and Tribulations of . . . THE CLASS OF 1996

The first year in junior high is often one of fear and excitement. It's a time of change and re-adjustment, when students begin their teenage years.

There is excitement in being in a new school, with many new students, new teachers, and new courses. For the first time these students get to participate in several different after school sports, be represented in the Student Council, attend dances, and have a choice in which classes they want to take. However, there are many fears in entering the "big" school. There are fears of getting lost, dropping books, tripping up stairs, and worst of all — not fitting in. As the year goes on, Seventh graders begin to feel a sense of belonging, some even begin to enjoy themselves, while others look forward to watching next year's generation go through the "Trials and Tribulations of The Seventh Grade."

Friends Will Always See You Through

Friends will always see you through,
Believe in things you want to do,
Feel happy when your dreams come true —

... Behind the scenes of the LONG EXPECTED YEARBOOK

The "yearbook year" is made up of a balance of hard work and fun. Our Advisor, Mrs. Diane Branham, was always there to guide us with advice and encouragement and help us through the stress of deadlines.

The first, and truly most important part of producing the yearbook is fundraising. The total cost of the yearbook exceeds $9,000. Vicky Safford spent most of her free time in the fall organizing her staff; they did an exceptional job.

The organizing of a yearbook is a difficult and time consuming process that requires a truly dedicated person. Editor Teri Cairns was able to handle that task. The planning of the book starts over the summer, almost a whole year before it is handed out to students. Selecting a theme, designing a cover, number of pages and a rough draft of how and what will appear on each page, selecting a staff, and setting photo sessions, are just a few of the preparatory tasks that must be done by early September. Then the hard task of actually working on the layout quads and meeting deadlines began. Teri had Allison, Steph, Grace, Jen, Vicky, and Shelly working every available minute on the production of the final layout. With Teri's easy-going attitude and her desire to always do her best, she was able to design and publish this year's 1991 Echo.

An essential step in making a good yearbook is the taking and developing of many pictures. This can be a very nerve wracking process, as lead photographer Dan Prouty learned.

The copy and typing staff had to work closely together all year. As soon as the copy staff knew which pictures were to be used, Shelly Gifford had her staff looking up the names and Grace Devera had her typists right on Shelly's heels. Proofreading rough drafts and final copies involved several hours of careful checking and verifying information.

One of the many new changes in this year's book was the addition of journalism. Articles were organized and written by Casey Frost after information had been collected by her staff. Casey was often stressed over trying to make deadlines, but the articles are an attractive addition to the book and it was accomplished after hours of research and interviewing.

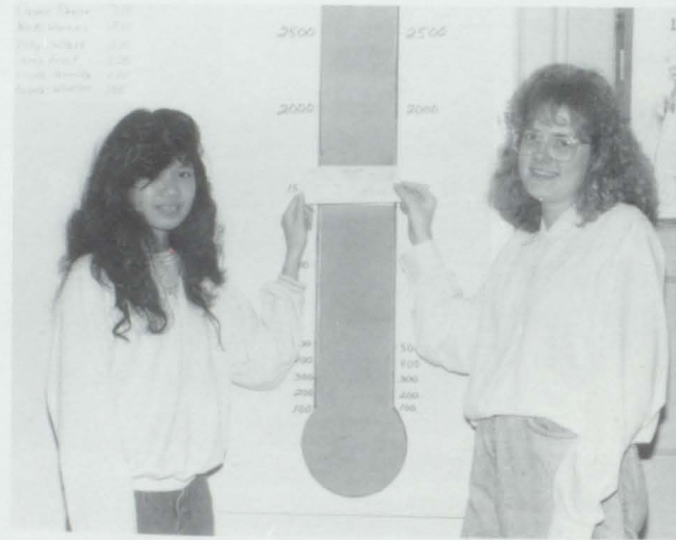

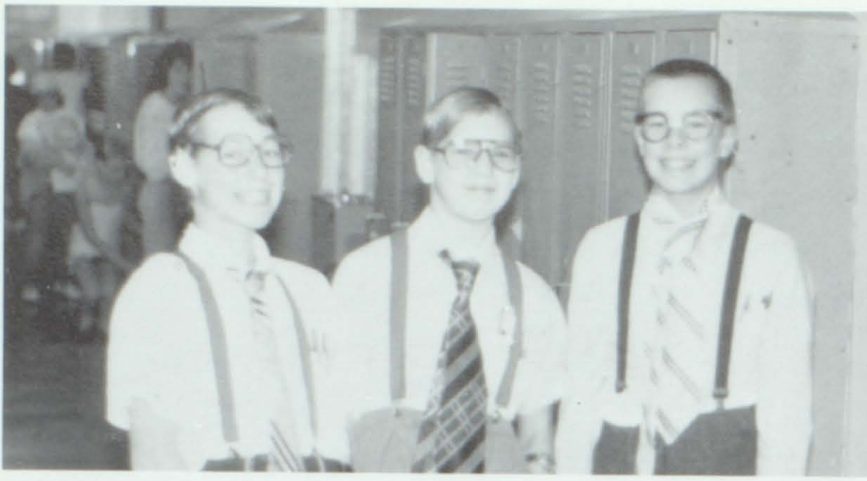

To wrap up our year, we would like to thank the following for assisting the staff: Mr. Tennant, Mrs. Craver, Ron Bradbury, Administrative Staff, and Mr. Steve Rice and all the coaches.

As a special good-bye to all the "staffers," always remember the feeling of being one and your ability to handle the unexpected.

From "Spirit Week" to Moving Up Day, 24 Student Council Members Make . . .

One Eventful Year

The members of the Bainbridge-Guilford Student Council are busy year-round, but they find fun in the hustle as well. The Student Council is a group of elected students, under the direction of advisor Mrs. Michele Shirkey, who work together to benefit the school. They have many daily and yearly responsibilities to the school and local community.

The Student Council helps keep our school running. They are responsible for updating the outdoor message board, giving the morning announcements (despite some technical difficulties), and changing the guidance office sign each day. They often hold dances, have the Teacher Secret Santa program at Christmas, and play a big roll in Moving Up Day.

This year the student council has been very helpful for the B-G student body. This year's Homecoming was made special with their help. They held a Homecoming dance where King — Hugh Winn was crowned, and Queen — Nicole Ermlich.

The Student Council provided prizes for creative Halloween costumes, which helped bring holiday spirit to B-G. There were a lot of original costumes roaming the halls this October 31st.

This year the Student Council has been very helpful in the community. A major project of the Student Council was this year's "Christmas Wish" program. They helped provide 31 families with food boxes, and 30 children with toys. On the opposite page we see student council members working on the "Christmas Wish" program. This program also brought Santa (he was very busy, so he had a little help from Senior, Chad Puffer) to the third grade students at Greenlawn.

The Student Council helped two school groups in an extremely important way this year — financially. Treasurer Gretchen Wessels gave a donation to Tanya Currie for the eighth grade. President Grace Devera gave an essential donation to Editor Teri Cairns for the Yearbook fund. This donation was greatly needed due to the budget cut, and couldn't possibly have been a better way to support/serve the majority of B-G students.

As well as working hard, members of student council find time to enjoy themselves. This year student council had T-shirts made, and a possible trip is being looked into.

Honor Society; just a few of the students who've mastered . . . Handling The Unexpected

To become a member of the Myrtle Pagett Chapter of the Senior National Honor Society students must meet certain qualifications. Students are approved for admission by a vote of the faculty council after assessing their scholarship, leadership, service, and character qualities. They must have a cumulative average of at least 90%, and they also must have two regents credits in each of math, science, and a foreign language.

There are currently 18 members of the Senior National Honor Society at B-G, and they are under the direction of Mrs. Jean Kohler and Mrs. Judi Collier. The officers (pictured to the right) are Bill Brubaker (Treas.), Colleen VanPelt (V. Pres.), Shelly Gifford (Sec.), and Esta Georgia (Pres.).

In October Mrs. Kohler took three representatives to Syracuse for an introductory course on how to hold a Blood Mobile.

On December 5, 1990 the Senior National Honor Society held their Fall Induction ceremonies. New inductees were, Jennifer Butler, Mark Aasmundstad, Dillon Constable and Colleen VanPelt.

Other possible events which were considered for the spring include a car wash and bottle drive to raise money for a group trip.

World Travelers

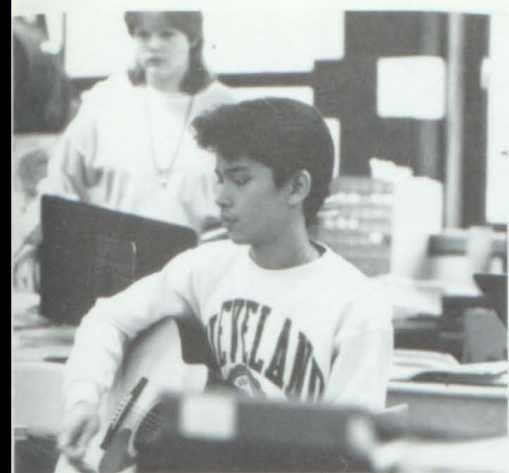

This year B-G is taking advantage of both aspects of the Foreign Exchange Program. B-G's Denise DiNoto is spending this school year in the Australian state of Tasmania, and B-G is being visited by our foreign exchange student Ariel Tolosa from the Philippines. Both are finding out a lot about different cultures.

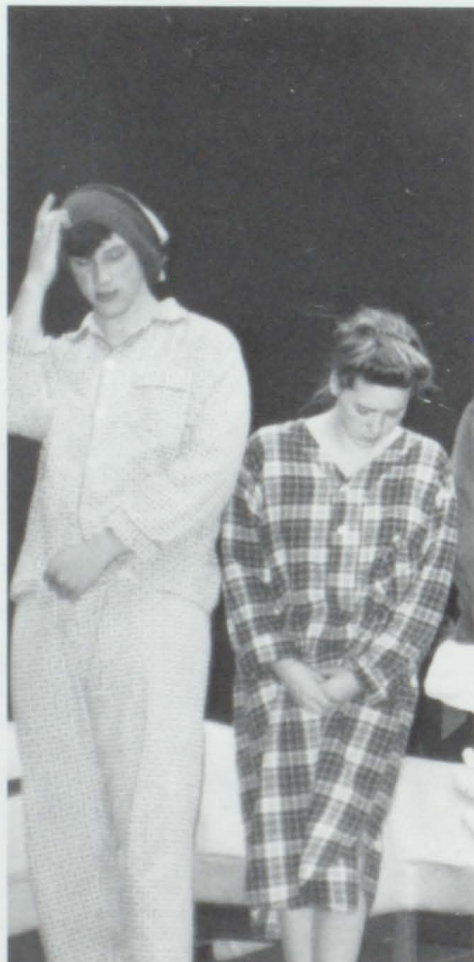

Denise left Bainbridge August 16, 1990 for Tasmania. Unsurprisingly Denise adjusted quickly to her new "home-away-from-home," as shown at the left with members of her host families. She has learned a lot of new sayings (G'day mate) different animals (the huntsman — a big furry harmless spider), and new foods (pumpkin soup). In Tasmania Denise has been involved with many things such as string and choral groups, presentations at Rotary meetings (a must for a foreign exchange student), and she even sang for a rock band! We all miss her, but are glad she's having fun.

Ariel Tolosa arrived at Syracuse Airport September 2, 1990 after traveling approximately twenty-four hours from his home in the Philippines. One of the biggest shocks Ariel had to deal with was the fact that Bainbridge was much smaller than he had expected, especially considering he had left in his home town of "Cebu" was four million. Ariel says that his school, an all boys school, "is a lot bigger about 1600 students, and very different from B-G." Ariel's host families included the Weissflog's, the Thomas', and the DiNoto's. Ariel was a member of our boys varsity basketball team. Ariel says that American food is very similar to what he was used to in the Philippines.

If anyone this past school year has had to work hard and be ready to "expect the unexpected" it was Denise and Ariel. We hope they both enjoyed their experiences as Foreign Exchange Students, and we wish them luck in the future.

Becoming Accustomed to the Unexpected Drama, French and Spanish Clubs . . . Bringing Culture to B-G

Culture is one of the many interests of B-G students. Students can find new and interesting activities by joining French Club, Spanish Club, or the re-established Drama Club.

Drama Club gives students the opportunity to experience first hand all aspects of a drama production including, acting, set decorating, and costuming. This year, with help from advisors Mrs. Mertz and Mrs. Morse, the drama club successfully staged their own rendition of "Twas the Night Before Christmas." The cast updated the "traditional" version of this classic to include some unexpected characters such as, Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer and The Energizer Bunny, as well as, a few scenes from the Nutcracker ballet. After hours of evening rehearsals they performed two shows for their classmates.

Foreign Language clubs also give students first hand experience. They give students the opportunity to learn about different cultures while applying their knowledge of a foreign language. This year the French and Spanish Clubs have seen an increase in participation. The French Club originated the everpopular "Candygram" as a fundraising alternative for a possible trip to a foreign play on Broadway. The Spanish club experienced the hispanic culture by eating Mexican style at Chi-Chi's. The two groups together sponsored a dance, and both observed "National Foreign Language Week."

These clubs prove that whether you're learning to act or learning a new language, you can have fun when you least expect it!

Mad Scientists and Dangerous Labs, Take your life into your hands when you Enter a Science Room

Most B-G students were involved in some sort of science class this year. There are seventh and eighth grade science classes, Earth Science, Biology, Chemistry, Physics, and Advanced Science. These classes are offered as regents or non-regents courses. For regents students three years of science is expected.

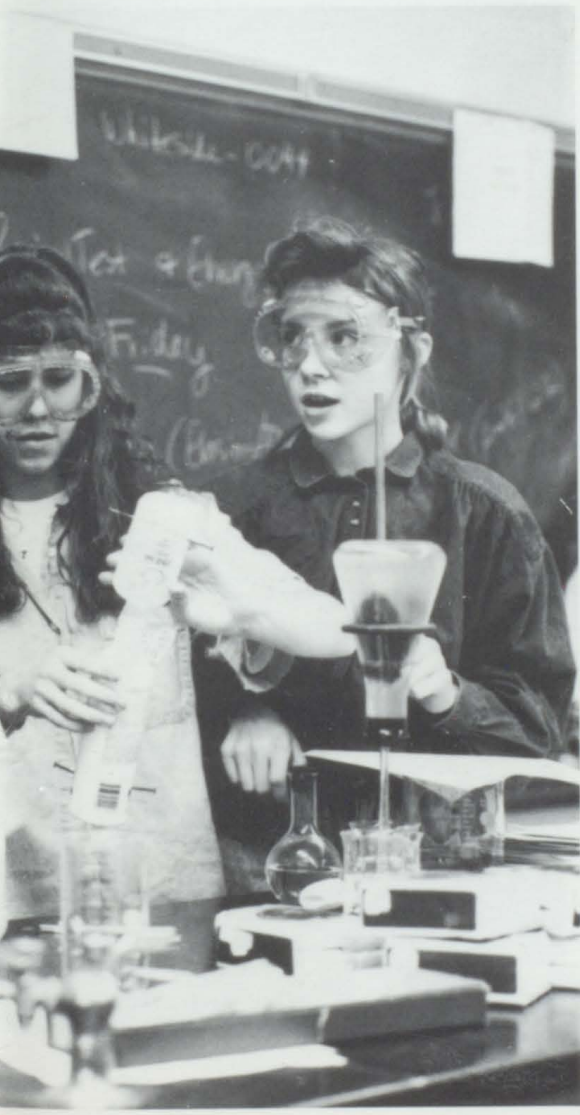

The unexpected is found in most science classes. From corks shooting through the air to unpleasant smells filling the room (especially during rat season) and chemicals bubbling over, by the end of the year the unexpected is the only thing that can be expected.

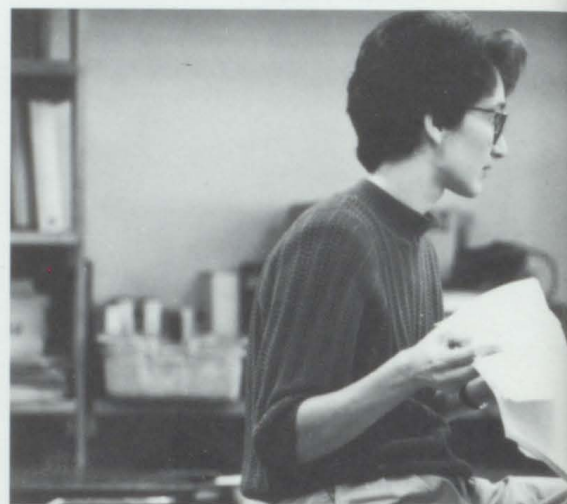

Biology field trips are an adventure most B-G students take. The memorable bus ride to the middle of nowhere, is well worth the bramble scratches, bug bites, and wet sneakers. Mr. Vredenburg has been taking biology students on these adventures for years, and hasn't lost a student yet — at least none that he's admitted to. He's proved that anyone can survive a day in the woods, no matter who their lab partner is, or what the weather's like.

Another challenge of science class, is lab. Labs give students the chance to reinforce hands-on experience to what they've learned. Lab also gives us the chance to wear those attractive green safety goggles, everyone's favorite fashion accessory, which even leave those provocative after lab lines. It's during labs that the unexpected is always expected.

Painting, Writing and Typing — Art, English and Business Students . . .

Getting It Down on Paper

Three active academic departments this year were the English, Art, and Business departments. Through these groups many students were involved in educational projects.

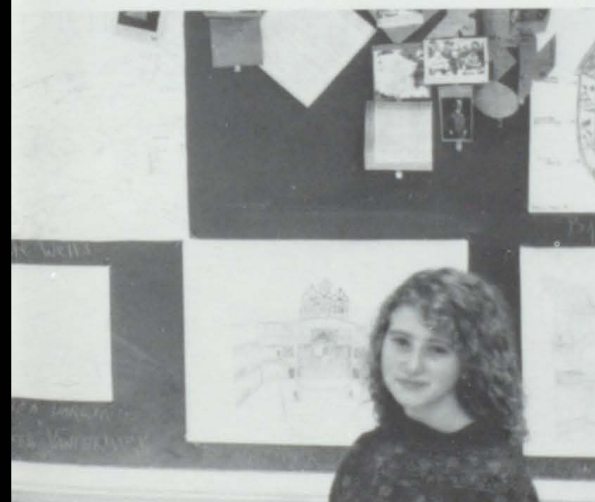

A major English project this year at B-G was study of Julius Caesar and Greek Theatre. Mrs. Collier's sophomore English class made time lines, research papers, maps, posters, or models for their projects on the Julius Caesar unit. One of the many excellent projects completed was a model of the Globe Theatre constructed by Jarrett Cannistra and Cody Britton. Cheryl Hoag donated her rendition of the Globe Theatre to the cultural exchange program between our school and Le college Henri Caher school near Paris.

Art students at B-G kept very busy this year. One project art students did this year was to paint spirit hoops for basketball games. They painted Christmas Door Cards to decorate the halls of B-G during the holiday season. Also, art students made and distributed yellow ribbons in the spirit of safely bringing our troops home from the Persian Gulf at the beginning of the war.

B-G students involved in business classes learned a lot this year. EIP (Electronic Information Processing) students typed up letters for the French 4 and 5 classes who were writing in French to obtain information on towns in France.

This year many of the Blue and White articles published were typed by keyboarding students of Mrs. Branham. In addition, Mrs. Branham worked with guidance counselors Mr. Williams and Mrs. Shirkey in a program called, "Linking Education to Business/Industry." As part of this program the president of Pennysaver, the general manager of Circulars Unlimited, and the director of human resources for both were invited to speak to Mr. Ashworth's social studies 12 classes and some of Mrs. Branham's BA/BCA and EIP classes about the kind of employees that they hire. They relayed the fact that they, as well as many other businesses, look for employees with positive attitudes that work well with others, and that their employees always have to be ready to expect the unexpected.

Social Studies, Home Ec. and Technology, Teaching us what to expect . . .

As The Future Unfolds

Academic lives of B-G students were shaped in Social Studies, Home Economics, and Technology classes this year.

As part of their participation in government class in 12th grade Social Studies, taught by Mr. Roger Ashworth, seniors had to attend at least one Town or Village board meeting, one school board meeting and one court session. While at the meetings, they are required to record public policy issues discussed and enacted as well as make personal observations about the meeting. Two students, Grace Devera and Shelly Gifford, were assigned to the Local Government Internship Program. Grace worked as an intern with the Village Board under Trustee Floyd Prouty, and Shelly worked on the Board of Education with Gary Smith. They were accepted for the program in lieu of in-class activities in government, and completed numerous requirements including reports back to their Social Studies class about their experiences. Colleen VanPelt also spoke to the 12th grade social studies about her experiences as a foreign exchange student in Belgium.

Home Economics classes, taught by Mrs.

Margaret Wicks and Mrs. Judy Volkert participated in many projects this year. Mrs. Wicks' Housing and Environment was visited by Mr. Peter Foster of N.Y.S.E.G. who lectured the class on how to conserve energy. He told the class how we can all conserve energy at home by taking showers rather than baths, using fluorescent light bulbs rather than incandescent, and washing full loads of clothes rather than one or two items. Mr. Foster stressed how important insulating our homes is, and that just six inches of fiberglass is equivalent to seven feet of brick. Mrs. Volkert's Clothing and Textiles class made baskets of rope and cloth. Mrs. Wicks' Housing and Environment class made wreaths of dried apples, and decorated them with ribbons and cinnamon.

Students in technology were faced this year with problem solving. Mr. Bartlett and Mr. Lyons gave their students problems to physically solve. Some of these projects included building a container which could prevent the breaking of a raw egg from a seven foot drop, making windpowered cars to race in the auditorium, and making something that can be used daily from a twelve foot block of wood.

our own horn!*

Throughout the '90-'91 school year, music has been an important aspect of student life at B-G. There are 65 members of the concert band who rehearse on days 2 and 5, and they are under the direction of Mr. William Smith. The band is divided into groups of percussion, woodwinds, and brass.

Each rehearsal is an example of how much time and hard work is needed in order to perform. To determine which part each student plays, they all must pass music proficiencies which are given twice a year. After hours of rehearsal, each performance was filled with freshmen debuts and senior "good-byes."

This year's concert band had many events planned. They included concerts on November 14, March 14, and a Senior Recognition Concert, Ithaca College Area ALL-STATE on Nov. 14 and Feb. 9, marching at the Memorial Day parades, competing at the Sherburne Pageant of Bands on June 1, and a performance at Commencement Ceremony on June 22.

Many students participating in concert band also take part in the B-G marching band. The marching band is also under the direction of Mr. Smith, and the colorguard coordinators are Mrs. Carol Smith, and Ms. Chris Palmatier. They begin practicing before Memorial Day and continue through the middle of August, giving them lots of time to "toot their own horns."

ORCHESTRA

A Note-able Experience

The senior orchestra has been a part of many students' lives this year at B-G. The 66 students in the orchestra rehearse on days 3 and 6, and are conducted by Mrs. Judith Niles. Mrs. Niles has been conducting for 25 years, and has been on the B-G staff since 1978. The orchestra is divided into the groups of: strings, woodwinds, brass, and percussion.

The orchestra performed in concerts on November 14, February 28 and April 26. The February concert was the Cabaret Concert, in which the orchestra played all pops pieces and were visited by a surprise guest — BATMAN, also known as Chad Puffer. They also took part in NYSSMA competitions in May and the senior recognition concert.

Four orchestra students also participated in a string quartet with Mrs. Niles. They performed at Christmas time throughout the school spreading Christmas cheer.

By the end of the school year, the orchestra had put in a lot of hard work, making it a very "note-able" year.

CHORUS:

They're singing their hearts out

While most of you are in study hall on days, 1 and 4, 35 students are "singing their hearts out" in the orchestra/band room. B-G's Senior Chorus is conducted by Mr. Logee, a graduate of The Kings College near New York City. The four divisions of the chorus are soprano, alto, tenor, and bass.

The chorus sang a mixture of traditional and contemporary music for their Christmas concert on December 13, 1990. The concert was a success though the group was presented with a big problem in the beginning. Because of the music selections chosen, the lack of male voices became a pressing problem. To solve this problem, several of the more versatile members switched to tenor and bass. The music chosen for the spring concert consisted of spirituals and contemporary.

Aside from chorus, is a group of 12 guys and gals who call themselves the "Choralaires." This group consists of singers from grades 9-12 who want to do "a little more." They too, are conducted by Mr. Logee. During the Christmas concert they also sang some contemporary music, and many songs were sung acapella. This is Mr. Logee's first step toward a future male and female Acapella Ensemble. He would also like to create a Jazz Ensemble in the distant future.

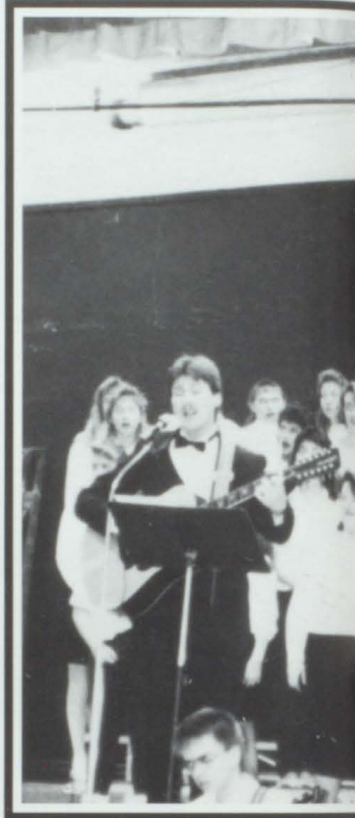

Another goal of Mr. Logee is to make the chorus, "as big, as strong, and as important as the band and orchestra program" at B-G. In order for this to be accomplished, more students who like to sing are needed, both girls and guys. All you need to do is be enthusiastic, and want to "sing your heart out."

BRIDGE OVER TROUBLED WATER

When you're weary, feelin' small,
When tears are in your eyes,
I'll dry them all; I'm on your side.

Oh, when times get rough
And friends just can't be found,
Like a Bridge Over Troubled Water
I will lay me down.

Like a Bridge Over Troubled Water
I will lay me down.

SPORTS

Sports are an important aspect of student life at B-G. Several B-G students are involved in the athletic program.

In the past few years we have added new sports like girls soccer and field hockey. We have six teams combined with Afton. They are football, football cheerleading, cross country, swimming, field hockey, and track.

There has been a lot of success achieved by B-G student athletes. Occasionally our teams suffer losses, but players learn the importance of teamwork and the value of a good try or a hard earned victory.

There are 17 different sports offered at Bainbridge-Guilford. By asking any athlete, one can find out how much fun is had on these teams. We hope next year brings as many student athletes to B-G as it has had in the past.

*Through teamwork, our B-G-A Bears

Best in Ten

This year, under the direction of Coach Steve Rice, our BGA Bears completed their best season in the last ten years. The 25 players, including 17 seniors, worked hard for a record of 7-2, proving the importance of teamwork. The Bears worked together earning three shutouts against Sidney, our cross town rival, Deposit and Tully. Coach Rice thought the game against Sidney was one of our best because, "the team went in fired-up ready to go, and shut them down with our strong defense."

The fact that our Bears were up against four teams. Delhi, Tully, Roscoe and Walton, who had played post season bowl games, and won three of the, shows the aggressiveness of the team. One of the most memorable games this season was the 13-32 loss to Walton. Coach Rice felt that even though the team didn't play particularly well, it'll be memorable because it drew the best crowd our team has had in the last 10-15 years. He also said, "It's unfortunate that we're in the same division as Walton. We've competed well, but their program is more solidified."

The Bears achieved their 7 wins of the season by the teamwork of all the players. Teamwork was essential in the 28-22 win over Roscoe. The last game of the season wasn't won by any one player, but by cooperation amongst all the team members. The 17 seniors will truly be missed, but Coach Rice assures us that there is hope for next year's team in the fact that the JV team ended the season 6-2. Hopefully next years' players will touch down on the teamwork skills of this year's victorious Bears.

TO BE COMPETITIVE

The B-G Girl's Varsity Tennis team played well during the 1990 fall season. The team consisted of thirteen members, three of whom were seniors: Colleen VanPelt, Cheryl Skeike, and Kathy Rice (shown below). The team had six wins and seven losses in league matches, and they won two of their non-league matches. In sectionals the team took sixth place overall. Kathy Rice and Colleen VanPelt were able to advance as far as the semi-finals.

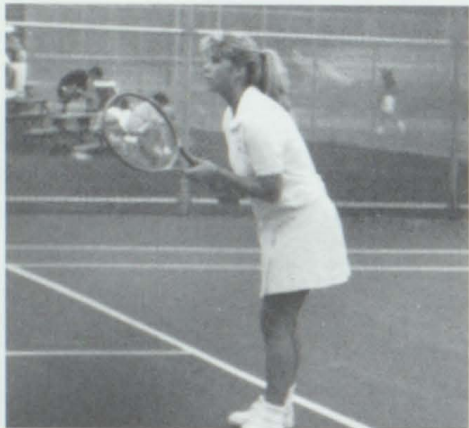

Coach Jody Hughes feels the team did well considering the fact that for the first few weeks of the season their tennis courts were being fixed and the team had to practice elsewhere. He feels the team has shown a great deal of improvement, and the girls worked hard this season.

This year's Cross Country team consisted of one Senior boy, Michael Gavin, and four eighth grade girls. They were all part of the BGA Cross Country team coached by Mr. Richard Bachner. Their daily training routine consisted of running approximately three miles a day.

This year's team was pretty successful. The team completed the season by earning two first place trophies, and several individual honors. The team looks promising for next year, and hopefully B-G will add more fly-ing feet to next year's BGA team.

This year's first win by our Girls' Varsity Soccer makes it . . .

One To Remember

Perhaps the greatest challenge for the 1990 Girls' Varsity Soccer Team was learning to play as a team. The 24 members of this second year team started off learning the basics of soccer and the future of 15 games. "We started off slow, but it wasn't from lack of energy. We were a young team with not much experience," said Coach Williams.

The team took a couple of hard losses against Charlotte Valley and Gilbertsville — Mount Upton, their first games. With only 10 returning players and two seniors, these first games were some players' first look at soccer. As the season continued, B-G improved immensely. A noticeable change in the way B-G played was during the game with Margaretville. The previous season, B-G was devoured by Margaretville who has been playing for decades. This year the team took a harsh loss of 3-1. The home game with South

New Berlin ended in a hard fought tie after 20 minutes of overtime. That game gave the girls enough desire and strength to win their first game against Delhi. Not only was it the first win of the year, but it was the first win in the history of B-G Girls' Varsity Soccer. No one person sat out a game as Coach Williams intended, and everyone did an excellent job. Coach Williams said, "We really showed team work."

Our two seniors, Casey Perry and Nicole Ermlich, (pictured at the side) will leave this year with "one to remember." Casey put forth continuous effort on the field as a midfielder and emotional support to everyone off the field. Nicole was the team's top scorer with 6 scores, and was chosen WCDO's Athlete Of The Week.

Coach Williams is looking forward to next season when everyone will have more experience and a better expectation of what's to come.

PSYCHE US UP!

Cheerleaders at B-G are an important function to keeping school spirit alive. They work together to psyche up the players as well as the crowds. Cheerleaders, whether B-G or BGA, along with being in good physical shape, must be aware of the sports' rules and plays so that they can coordinate their cheers. They have to continually try to be enthusiastic and keep spirits high during a game, and that can be quite hard when our team is unexpectedly behind.

Not only did the cheerleaders perform at all varsity football and basketball games, but they also play a special role at pep rallies, homecoming celebrations, and at this year's bonfire. Overall, cheerleaders have a very important job of keeping B-G spirit alive, and therefore they deserve a "cheer" for themselves and their coaches.

Nine and Eleven

After a long and difficult year the B-G Varsity Basketball team ended the season 9 and 11. The team worked hard to play as one and "often didn't receive the credit they deserved," Coach Billy said. After overcoming many obstacles the team finally earned the respect of opposing teams and fans. Accomplishments this season included B-G's defeat of Oxford to take 3rd place in the Norwich Tournament. The Bobcats also kept the crowd's attention with several close games resulting in some major victories.

As a whole, the team was recognized as working very well on offense and defense, with top scorers being seniors Hugh Winn, Jeff Seymour and Mike Klockowski, and sophomore Rob Ponnwitz. This year's team is working hard and setting standards for next year's team to improve on. With five returning juniors, and many promising JV players moving up, Coach Billy will have his hands full with a talented Varsity team.

Kazalski Tournament Champions and 2nd place in the league; Lady Bobcats . . . Reaching New Heights

This year's determination led the B-G Girls Varsity Basketball team to a winning season. The season started off with a 0-5 losing streak, but had no after-effects. The Bobkittens came back with ten wins and only one loss, to Delhi. Even though the season ended in a lull, the team took a tie for second place in the league.

The Bobkittens had two tournaments this season. The team had two difficult and close defeats, to Norwich and Greene, to earn fourth place in the Norwich Tournament. Girls' basketball hit the record books this year, when for the first time in B-G girls' history, both the JV and Varsity teams took first place in their own Kazalski Tournament. B-G defeated Afton and Unatego to take the top.

B-G gained recognition and respect as they proved their confidence and success on the court. They overcame their attitude differences, and learned to play as a team. The team supported each other to the end and worked hard at it. The four graduating seniors played important roles as part of the team. Casey Perry, Jan Ireland, and Kathy Rice were the team's top scorers and inspiration. While the rest of the team stood hard and gained their own personal recognition. The team's defensive ability was outstanding, and their motto on offense was, "Go to the Boards."

Coach Chase was an exceptional support to the team, and all members thank him very much. Next year will bring several promising underclassmen with high hopes and lots of spirit to keep the reputation earned this year. No matter how they do, this year's team will miss its seniors whose loyalty and dedication has been important and greatly appreciated.

The Thundercats worked hard earning a record season of . . .

Fourteen and Five

This year's Girls' Varsity Volleyball team consists of nine members, including four Seniors, who were under the guidance of Mr. Larry Vredenburgh. This was Mr. Vredenburgh's sixteenth year coaching girls volleyball. The Thundercats worked hard earning a season record of 14 and 5.

Mr. Vredenburgh said that one of the best qualities of the team was that all the girls got along and worked well together. High honors for serves converted to points goes first to Bridget Winn, second to Rockie Stilson, and third to senior Kelly Hotaling. Leaders in kills were, senior, Sarah Crouch, junior, Bridget Winn (a WCDO Athlete of the Week), and senior, Stacia Ross. Mr. Vredenburgh feels that the last game against Deposit was the most memorable games of the season. At this game the Thundercats, for the first time, sealed the second place finish for a B-G Varsity team.

According to Mr. Vredenburgh, there is a lot of young talent coming up for next year's varsity team. He stated that the girl's volleyball program at B-G has a "good nucleus." As always he will prepare his team to "expect the unexpected."

Which Took Them Far

This year's Rifle Team consisted of ten members, including four seniors, and was under the guidance of Coach Roger Ashworth. For the first time, this year's team was shooting in a new league, due to lack of local competition. Being in this new league took them to far away places like Candor and Central Square.

The top two average shooters, seniors Jason Cannistra and Kevin Dibble, earned approximately 230 points a meet. The highest score received by one of this year's riflemen was 241, achieved by freshman, Greg Dibble. The highest score possible was 300, and points were earned in the three positions of prone, standing and kneeling, with a possible total of ten in each position. Pictured to the right are the four seniors, Kevin Dibble, Jason Cannistra, Lanny Tracey, and Phil Carpenter.

Coach Ashworth said that several of his past riflemen are serving in Saudi Arabia during Operation Desert Storm. Learning how to properly use a rifle can be very beneficial, but as Coach Ashworth wrote to a past student, he hopes that for once his students won't have to use what he taught them.

The 1990-91 Boy's and Girl's Bowling teams have had a good season. They were under the instruction of Mrs. Myers. Their records have not been as good as some years, but there is a lot of young potential for some very good future teams. There will be only one senior lost this year. The boys beat the one time league leaders by taking four out of seven points. The girls did quite well considering they did not have any substitutes. There are some very talented bowlers developing on both teams.

The team has done quite well against bigger schools that B-G's athletic teams would normally not compete in league matches against. The boys' team finished third in sectionals, and the girls finished fourth. Since many of B-G's rival bowling teams will be losing a substantial amount of people, and by using the teamwork and the confidence developed this year, next year's team will start out with a high advantage all ready to "expect the unexpected."

Varsity Swimming is one of the teams which is merged with Afton, due to the obvious lack of an indoor pool in Bainbridge. This year's seventeen member team included six swimmers from Bainbridge and was guided by first year coach, Mr. Stewart. Josh Youngs and Charity Currie from Bainbridge, as well as several Afton swimmers, competed in Sectionals. Josh competed in the 100-yard backstroke and 200-yard relay and Charity swam the 500-yard free and 200-yard individual medley. Josh made consolations at sectionals swimming the 200-yard relay. The Indicators improved a lot from last year, and while they did not win any meets, on an individual basis they are a strong and competitive team. The future looks bright for ABG swimmers.

Individual Achievements put BGA wrestling . . .
In a Winning Position

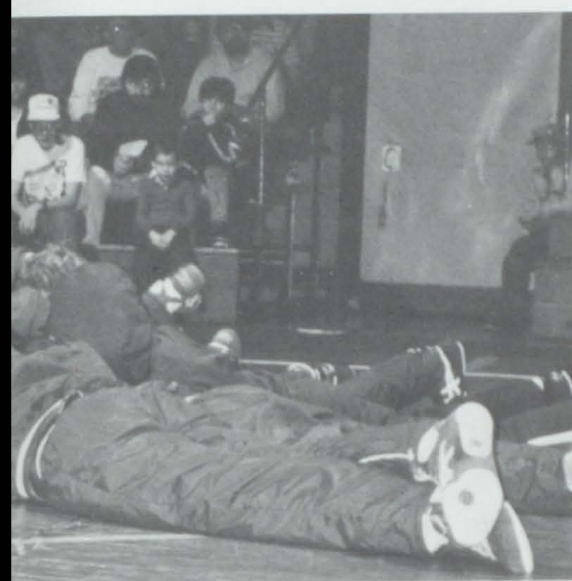

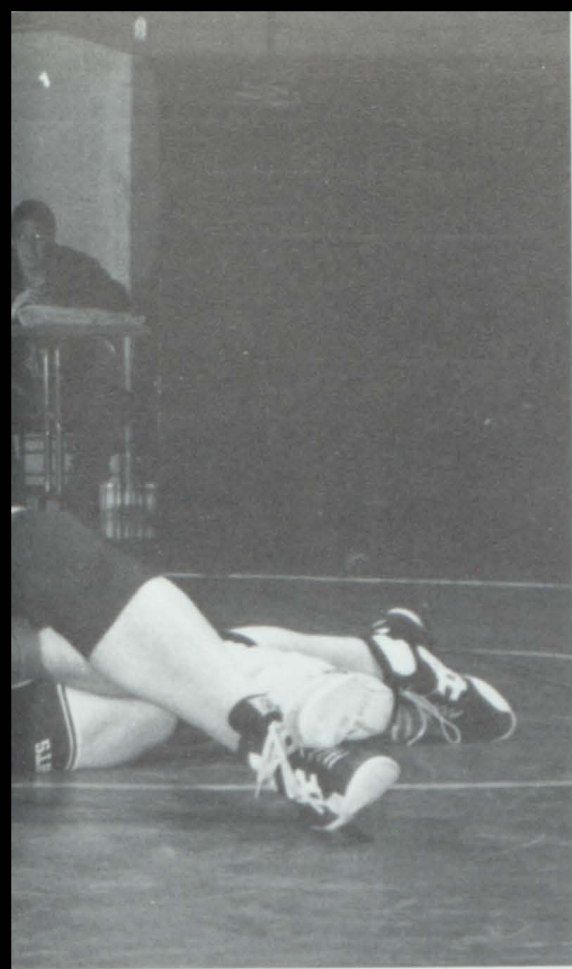

This year's BGA wrestling team was coached by Mr. Mel Petteys, who has coached for six years, and ended the season with a six and eight record. The merged wrestling squad consists of twelve members, and nine are from Bainbridge-Guilford. The wrestling squad is divided into fourteen weight classes.

As a team, the boys supported each other very well. Unlike most sports, the points earned for the team are earned by each individual wrestler.

There were many important tournaments which made up the wrestling season. The first of the season was the Clyde Cole Tournament at Oxford. Senior Chad Puffer (167) and Ryan Hurba (155) took first place in their weight class. At the Walton Tournament, Ron Bradbury (177), Jon Donenko (heavyweight) and Ryan Hurba (155) all earned first place awards. The Sherburne-Earlville Tournament brought a well deserved first place win to Ron Bradbury in the 177 weight class. At the SUS League Tournament, Jon Donenko and Ryan Hurba both wrestled their way into first place. At the Class B Sectionals in Norwich, first place was awarded to Ryan Hurba. At the Section IV Tournament at SUNY Binghamton, Ron Bradbury and Ryan Hurba worked very hard to place, 3rd and 5th respectively.

Next year's team will consist of many lightweight wrestlers. Coach Petteys hopes that next year many more athletes will try out for the team, and reinforce the spirit of wrestling at B-G.

STAFF

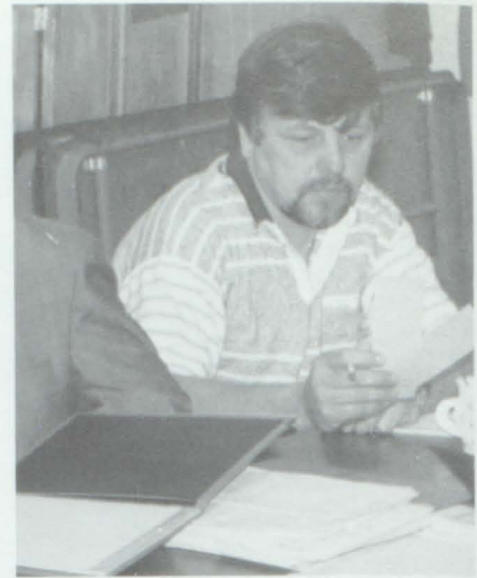

The B-G staff can be defined by the word "teamwork." They work together to keep our school in proper working order. They provide us with a safe, clean place to learn. Each member of the B-G staff is an essential part to the functioning of our school, and without their cooperation and "teamwork" the Bainbridge-Guilford Central School would be in a permanent state of chaos.

Leaders of the pack

The Board of Education consists of seven district residents elected to represent the community. Members of the Board are recognized as State Educational Officers and have responsibility for developing policy for the school district. They are required to have a broad background of experience and knowledge while being tolerant and free of prejudice.

The Superintendent performs two major functions; he serves as the Chief Executive Officer of the school board and as the educational leader of the school district. As the Chief Executive Officer, the Superintendent is responsible for carrying out the Board's policies, recommending personnel programs to the Board of Education. As educational leader, the Superintendent is held accountable for planning and maintaining a quality educational program for the students of the school district. In addition, the Superintendent sets the tone and expectations for the students and staff while overseeing the day-to-day operation of the school district.

Administrators also pop up in many "unexpected" places, from planning staff Christmas Breakfast, to supporting most school activities.

Teachers are the Key

Teachers are the key element to the success of B-G. They dedicate their lives (dedicate — because teaching isn't an eight hour process) to helping students learn all that they can to become the best that they can be. They are our educators, friends, emotional supporters, and though we often rebel against them now, we'll one day appreciate them for taking the role of our disciplinarians. They do the best they can to teach us all they know so that we may go on to college and/or find the most suitable job.

Teachers at B-G must also "expect the unexpected," whether it's from an outbreak from an unruly student or a budget cut, teachers must always be prepared to handle any circumstance. Although the school day only lasts for six hours and thirty-five minutes, our teachers have a life long effect on us. And for this, the students of B-G truly thank you for being our TEACHERS.

Good Luck Seniors!!!

Hats Off to You, Graduates

As soon as your cap sails into the air on graduation day, your high school days will be behind you. That moment will represent the culmination of all your efforts over the past thirteen years. But it is not an end.

Whether you are planning to start college, enter the military or join the workforce, the most important lesson to remember is that learning is a life-long process.

Congratulations on all that you have achieved thus far, and best wishes in meeting the challenges of tomorrow.

In Loving Memory of

Mr. James R. Lyons

January 8, 1944-February 13, 1991

As a teacher, coach, colleague, and friend, Jim Lyons touched our lives in many different ways. After 24 years of teaching and living in the community, the loss will be greatly felt by many. He will always hold a special place in our hearts.
