The Yearbook Staff dedicates the 1954 "TIGER" to Miss Evelyn Holmes, third grade teacher. Miss Holmes is retiring at the end of this, her 25th, year as a teacher in Guilford. Most of the pupils of the school have been under her tutelage during their early years and they remember well the splendid start she gave them.

"School" and "You" are two words with an abundance of meaning.

As you turn the pages of this year book let your memory return to the day when you shyly encountered the steps of school to enter kindergarten or first grade. Remember how proud you were to say, "I am going to school." To school . . . a stepping stone responsible for your personality which is now being shaped.

After proudly securing your diploma from kindergarten, where you learned to be obedient, make friends, and appreciate your increasing knowledge, you are then promoted to first grade.

As you progress up the ladder from grade to grade you are constantly securing ingredients to brighten your personality. Remember how proud you were to be in "High School"?

Through-out the four years of high school you add to your personality traits, foresight, honesty, earnest working, and cooperation.

As you progress further into this year book and observe the various grades, high school classes, and extra activities, secure in your mind the valuable factors you achieved from each to make "you".

Inclosing may I say "memory is one of the gifts of God no one can destroy", and that school will remain with you forever as it is you.

Class History

This is an account of the history of the Senior class of 1954. The years in which we have been in school together have been important ones. We have matured through the challenge of our studies, the responsibilities assumed in class and extra activities, our social relationships, and the friendships formed.

Of the present Senior class, Kenneth Ryan, Albert Ives and David Ives, Neal Harrington and Jean Gridley entered the first grade together. Kathryn Braisland and Howard Mayne joined us in the second grade. Arlene Stanley came in third grade and Charles Burt came in fourth grade. In fifth grade we added Richard Demeree, Joanna Miles, and Dennis Sands. Betty Seaman joined us in sixth grade. In the eighth grade we added to our number Pat Pendlebury and Jerry Bates. In our senior year Marjorie Cunningham joined us. Howard Mayne left us to enter the armed forces. Shirley Ricks, Joel Harvey, Douglas Steele, and Connie Lagner were members of the class during high school who left us.

Our seventh and eighth grade years were valuable in shaping the course of senior high school. Mrs. Stapleton carefully guided us toward more adult reasoning and a deeper appreciation of our moral values. We can never forget her interest and encouragement. Our trips to Cooperstown and Albany were wonderful experiences of those years.

1950-51 was a hard year and a happy year. We were in senior high school. Our advisor -- Miss Rumpf, the laboratory with all its opportunities for mischief, the phase of "water in the seats", the fun we had with airplane study, the advice Mr. Stapleton gave us, the Christmas party, the sleigh ride, the kick we got out of our social studies teacher, Mr. Mulligan, and for some of us, the struggles of studying Latin, are all warm memories of that time.

CLASS HISTORY CONTINUED

In 1951-52 we were Sophomores. We moved into the library. Many memories go back to that homeroom with its noise, its cold winters, and its fun. Mrs. Snover began to be an important part of school. We found a new advisor and a wonderful addition to the class in Mrs. Roberts that year. Any class memories of high school must surely include her. Some of the things we remember from that year are the hours spent doing Geometry, the involvement with World History, and the slow beginnings of a treasury. We put on a movie and several bakesales. We remember the tractor-wagon ride and picnic at Ryans' in the spring - - Mrs. Roberts looking as young as any of the girls in her slacks and shirt, Denny baby-sitting with Lowell R., and how good the food tasted on top of the hill. Biology class was an experience to be lived through. On the afternoon the high school went to see the movie "Quo Vadis", the sophomore biology class stayed home for misbehavior.

1952-53. We had come up in the world. We were Juniors. By now we were sure of ourselves if not of our studies. The boys were playing varsity basketball. We had to make money in earnest for our senior trip. We put on bakesales and a chicken supper for which we contributed food for an army. We presented a movie, inherited the candy-selling business from the Seniors, and sold refreshments at ball games. We bought our class rings. We worked with the Seniors to put on two plays. We were assuming positions of leadership in the Student Council, Athletic Association, newspaper, and musical activities. With the Seniors, we staged a political rally on the election of president of the United States. We came out successfully in the school essay and oratorical contest, with David Ives representing the school in higher competition. In June we decorated the auditorium for commencement, anticipating the time when it would be done for us.

1953-54. This was our senior year. We moved in with Mrs. Roberts to make the Language room the Senior (and noisiest) home room. Mr. Ryther and all our teachers aided us in adjusting our schedules and in making plans for after high school. We are grateful to them for their understanding help. In November we put on a play "Let's Face It", with lots of comedy in and out of the script. From rehearsals we remember Denny rolling away in the wastebasket, and Mrs. Snover substituting for absent actors. We built our own props and achieved great success in the performance. In February we staged a donkey basketball game, with the Senior boys playing the Firemen. The large crowd, the many laughs and the excitement made it a never-to-be-forgotten event. In May came our Senior Ball, the first of its kind in the school for some time. As Seniors, we saw things in a different perspective. The time was approaching ---. Maybe we felt more serious and acted more like the grades who mobbed us in the halls. We sold candy, lost some to the mice, decay, and other elements, and gladly turned it over to the Juniors. We had some wonderful and hilarious times selling magazines and cards, what with sales trouble and car trouble. The boys began to go places in sports, and the senior homemaking class discovered the intricacies of that subject. The Washington trip with all its experiences, and finally graduation, climaxed our last school year.

PROPHECY

I was sweeping the floor of the History Room of Guilford Central School and to my surprise I noticed a copy of the "New York Times" in the basket. It was Gerald Bates' exclusive paper celebrating the fifth anniversary of the Class of '54. Having secured some education in life, I was able to read most of the big words in the article telling of the positions that the class holds in society.

Joanna Miles....Inherited the title, Countess, schooled in the exclusive colleges of Europe, owns three mansions in Paris, five in London, and one hotel in N. Y. C., with a penthouse on top. She stays in this structure on trips to the United States. Her new Jet has newly been converted into a Bel-Air type. Real Ritzi!

Charles Burt....Head Executive of the Diamond Cutters Association of the World. Offices are located at Paris, Fifth Avenue, Brazil, Africa, and Bermuda Island. He purchased the Hope Diamond for his wife, the former Margaret Truman.

Arlene Stanley....Happily married to Richard Place, now the President of the United States, holds the title of the first lady of the land.

Neal Harrington....Unheard of.

Albert Ives....The successor for Senator Ives in Washington. He obtained the title of Secretary of Agriculture in the government. As a side line he purchased the Carnation Farms.

Kathryn Braisland....Inventor of the first electronic flute, now owns and directs the newly established International Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra.

Jean Gridley....Dean of Oneonta State Teachers College. Her investments in the New York Stock Exchange, of which David Ives is the president, has made her a multimillionaire.

Kenneth Ryan....Owner of former Cornell University, now Ryan Agricultural Institute. He owns the monopoly on all Buicks in the United States. Purchased in 1956 the Case Farm Implement Co. and Inc.

Gerald Bates....The owner and Editor-in-chief of the "New York Times" received the nobel prize for Citizenship of the World. (Nice going Jerry!)

Dennis Sands....Speaker for the United Nations, advisor for President Place, worked out a peace plan for the Iron Curtain countries in 1956.

Richard Demeree....Notre Dame's top coach of football. Received the title of Mr. America. He married Miss America of 1959.

David Ives....Secretary and Treasurer of the Ryan Agricultural Institute and the President of the New York Stock Exchange. So as not to be outdone by Kenneth Ryan he purchased in 1957 the Farmall Implement Co.

Patricia Pendlebury....Married Russell Ailsworth, now the Commander-in-chief of the U. S. Armed Forces. They purchased Mt. Vernon for their summer home.

Marjorie Cunningham....Dean of the School of Dentistry in Rochester. Holds the crown of the Champion of Lady Wrestling.

Betty Seaman....Nurse Superintendant of John Hopkins Hospital. As a side line she has a television show equal to Kate Smith.

I sat back in the desk and my thoughts went back to five years ago, when the Class of '54 was yet deciding to do.

Little did I know that those little pipe dreams would some day mount into something that would place bread and butter on our table for the rest of our lives.

As we walked out of the doors that night of graduation happy were the thoughts, we walked into another world quite different from any we had ever been in before. It was a world of responsibility, and as you see I didn't fully assume the task that was thrown before me. I put it off until another day and the next day never came, there was always another to come.

Highlights of the Student Council activities this year included participation in the "March of Dimes" fund raising campaign. Members participated in a house-to-house canvass of the village. The same evening "Queen" Betty Seaman reigned over a "Vic" dance in the gym. The Council purchased Christmas tree lights for the beautiful Spruce trees in front of the school. Through the efforts of the Council, and with the cooperation of the high school classes new stage scenery was constructed in time for the Senior play in November. These were a much needed addition. All of this was in addition to the regular business of approving various class activities through the year.

G I R L S   C H O R U S

The Girls Chorus has been the backbone of many of the programs presented during the course of the year. They have rehearsed faithfully two days a week, learning many new songs. During the Lenten season they sang in the local churches for the special services.

MIXED CHORUS

This organization has permitted the blending of male and female voices for some fine music. The group has met once a week during the year. Much fun and merriment together have been desirable outcomes.

TO THE NEW GRADUATE:

This day is decidedly different from all the thousands of other days that have passed this way since history began. And as long as time reigns, there will never be another twenty-four hours quite like these which are now passing in review before the world.

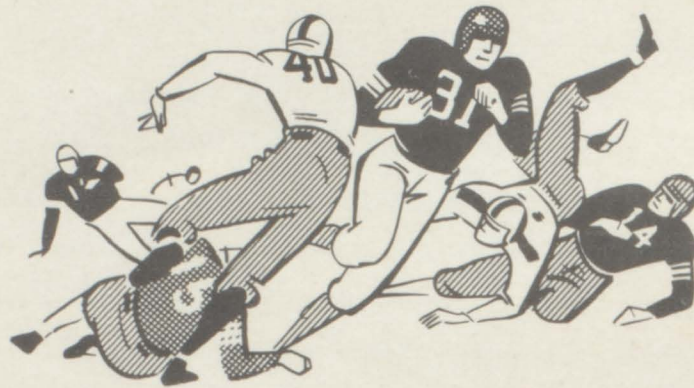

We do not say this merely because it is your graduation day-- but because it is true of all days. No two days are ever alike. They are all different...every single one...because people make them different. You, yourself, have the power to change the complexion of a day completely and mold it into a creation of your own.

A word...a deed...a friendly gesture! A goal strived for--- and, perhaps, won. These are the kind of things which will make each day a special one for you. In other words, life is indeed what you make it.

From this day on, you will begin to accept responsibilities more complex than any you have previously known. Consider each of life's problems a challenge to your ability, your knowledge, and your personality. Above all, be a good citizen---a credit to your school, home and community.

Although you may forget many of life's days, remember that each is important in its way. This, your graduation day, is one which you will always remember, however, and we wish to congratulate the members of the Class of '54. May all of you have good luck, good success, and good faith in the future.

BASEBALL TEAM

This year's edition of the baseball team had not yet swung into action when the "TIGER" went to press. As in past years, we will be members of the Tri-Valley league. We have ambitions of copping the trophy this year.

G I R L S   A T H L E T I C S

The members of this group, under the direction of Mr. Clark, the Athletic Director, were organized for soccer, basketball, volleyball and softball. Some inter-school contests were arranged, but most of the activity took place during our noonhour intramural program.

Athletic Association

row 1: J. Dexheimer, A. Stanley, J. Bates, Coach Clark, R. Chiovaro, R. Chiovaro. row 2: T. Ingham, R. Place, J. Merlino, M. Fellows, M. Davis, B. Seaman, R. Kaufinger, F. Demeree, D. Dexheimer, M. Raphael, A. Ives.

The Athletic Association has the responsibility of backing all interscholastic athletic teams. Receipts taken in at basketball games must be budgeted to take care of officials' expenses at football, basketball, and baseball games. All athletic awards are provided for by this group, as are Tri-valley League dues. Much depends on the efficient operation of this group.
