CLASS HISTORY

In the fall of 1943 two of the class of '56 started at the Guilford Central School. They were Maxine Randall and Phyllis Manwarren. In first grade Lena Savory joined us. When entering second grade we were joined by Mary Fellows, William Higney and Hobert Stoddard. Ronald Phelps joined us in third grade.

This group with many others who have dropped out along the way went happily along to fifth grade where Gary Harmon joined us. When we were in Sixth Grade Harold Wall came to us. This makes our happy little Senior Class of nine now

In seventh grade with Mr. & Mrs. Stapleton we went to Cooperstown. In eighth grade, which was a little larger than our present class, we went to Albany and on the way back we stopped at Howe Caverns.

In the fall of '52 our class then entered High School with Mr. Butler as our home room teacher. He also was appointed as our class advisor. All through our year we had a Christmas dance and made pretty good on it. During this year several of the boys took part in sports.

In our Sophomore year Maxine Randall won second place in Prize Speaking. Mary Fellows went out for cheerleading this year.

In our Junior year Ronnie Phelps was chosen to represent our school at Boys State Harold Wall was chosen for citizenship. Lena went out for cheerleading. Phyllis was chosen Lady of the Year, by her high school classmates. We also had a pancake Supper, and had a lot of fun doing it. Can't you see Mr. Butler washing dishes?

In September of '55 the class of 10 enters as Guilford Central School Senior class. As a class of ten we have had fun working together for the past four years for our Senior trip to Washington, D. C. and are now looking forward to graduation.

1. The first of the three main points of the report is that the Government has failed to provide adequate housing for the people of the country. This is a serious problem which has caused much suffering and hardship. The Government should take immediate steps to provide adequate housing for all its citizens.

2. The second point is that the Government has failed to provide adequate education for its citizens. Education is the key to progress and development, and the Government should ensure that all its citizens have access to quality education.

3. The third point is that the Government has failed to provide adequate healthcare for its citizens. Healthcare is essential for the well-being of the population, and the Government should ensure that all its citizens have access to quality healthcare.

4. In conclusion, the report states that the Government has failed to provide adequate housing, education, and healthcare for its citizens. The Government should take immediate steps to address these issues and ensure that all its citizens have access to quality services.

CLASS PHROPHECY

A few nights ago I dreamed I went to the worlds fair in London, England. I had quite a few interesting experiences there so if you will read on you will see what I mean.

The first person I bumped into was the President of the class of "56". I was amazed when I heard his voice but knew in a moment it was Harold Wall. He was yelling at the top of his lungs, "FRENCH FRIES". I went over to talk to him and learned that he was the happy father of four nice little boys. It was nice seeing an old friend again so from then on I decided to keep my eyes open for someone I might know.

This time my attention was drawn to a tent where many many people were yelling for all they were worth. Guess who was on the stand, yes sir, the worlds champion wrestler, William Higney. He surely had changed since the last time I had seen him.

I ventured back on my journey again and wandered into this huge building where all the ministers and priests held their headquarters. The first person to walk up to me was Reverend Harmon. It was hard for me to believe that Gary of all people would turn out to be a minister. But as we say seeing is believing."

After leaving Gary, I figured it would be worth looking for the rest of the class of "56". As I was strolling along this poster hit me right in the face, I picked it up and here's what it read, "Lucky Phelps." I went to the grandstand and sure enough if Ronnie wasn't the racer. It wasn't a surprise when Ronnie came out victorious in every race.

I had no more than turned around and I heard another familar voice. Then I was startled because the sign this man was holding made me wonder. Then I came to my senses. It was dear old Hobie. I guess he had the racket made this time but I'll never tell! And neither will you-because he was blind, but still recognized me for some reason I'll never know.

It was getting dark so I thought I'd head over to the grandstand to catch the evening show. I was just nicely seated when I heard another familiar voice. "LADIES AND GENTLEMEN"-wow! I thought I'd pass out because it was our class advisor, Mr. Butler, now better known as "Sam the Ringmaster." He was a lion trainer and I thought to myself "must be he aas gone to something a little rougher than students. Then came the payoff Mr. Butler announced that he had with him tonight the only woman fire-eater in the world. Her name was "Tillie The Iron Throated Woman." Brother! I thought I'd drop because -it was our class 4-H'er, Maxine Randall.

The next act was the most breath taking of any that were presented that evening. "Little Lena" on the flying trapeze. She was another one of my class mates and was still as tiny as she always was.

Another act which was presented was "The Lady Juggler Miss Manwarren." Phyllis used to be the class beauty but things changed a little now.

Then when the Grandstand act was over I figured I must be getting back to my tent because it was almost time for my act to go. By the way I'm the "Snake Charmer."

So as you see every one in our class all picked the same life. We might have been hardat learning books but we all turned out to be quite the "DAREDEVILS!"

A black and white photograph featuring a variety of objects arranged on a surface. In the upper left, a glass bottle, possibly containing a beverage, stands next to a vintage record player. A vinyl record is placed on the turntable of the record player. Below the record player, another vinyl record lies flat. To the right of the records, a large, ornate crown with a dark interior and a jeweled cross on top sits on a soft, white, cloud-like base. In the bottom right corner, a single, light-colored, patterned shoe is visible. A wide, white diagonal banner cuts across the center of the image, bearing the word "ACTIVITIES" in a stylized, serif font.

26,000,000 MINUTES

As a new graduate, you are now standing on the threshold of time. You have 26,000,000 minutes left to complete your life's work.

What you do with the time that has been allotted for your particular journey through life is, of course, up to you. But it is important to realize that time becomes increasingly valuable as you grow older. All of the goals and ambitions you have chosen for yourself must be reached within about the next fifty years. This gives you, at the age of eighteen, roughly 26,000,000 priceless minutes—more or less—to work with.

Time is something to be reckoned with. It comes at you in seconds, minutes and hours—such tiny sands of measurement that days, weeks, months, and even years can sometimes slip by unnoticed through the hourglass of your life. Time is an eternal buffer that can give you the polish that comes with experience, or it can be an emery wheel that will wear you down at every turn. The personality and depth of character you develop within your inner self makes this vital determination.

Time is important. Never make the mistake of thinking it is not. Remember that in the final analysis, minutes wasted in getting started can add up to the hours of a lost opportunity. Do not be one of those who wastes time waiting for opportunity to come knocking on the door. It should be you—always—who goes knocking on opportunity's door.

Time is expendable. It has been given to you in a certain amount to spend in whatever way you see fit. But it should be clearly understood there is a built-in bonus for those who make effective use of time. Thus far, you have spent 9,201,600 minutes of your life, and these have been minutes well spent . . . for the past 18 years, spent at home and in school, have given you the background needed for a good start in life. Now, the important thing is to keep going. Good luck to you and your friends who make up the Class of '56. The next 26,000,000 minutes are up to you.
