Dedication

With sincere thanks for all that she has done for us, we gratefully dedicate the 1957 edition of THE TIGER to Mrs. Mildred Stapleton. In her twelve years of teaching at Guilford Central School, Mrs. Stapleton has served us with patience and understanding. Her thoughtful guidance will long be remembered.

VADA MOWRY
SENIOR CLASS ADVISOR

Our Advisor, Miss Mowry, came to us this year from Oxford. Miss Mowry attended Oxford Academy & Central School. She has degrees from Syracuse University and Katherine Gibbs.

We wish to express our gratitude for the many times she has aided us. Miss Mowry proved to be a definite asset in the preparation of THE TIGER. Many nights after school she worked, putting the finishing touches on the yearbook. During our Senior Play she attended all the rehearsals and also assisted in the direction.

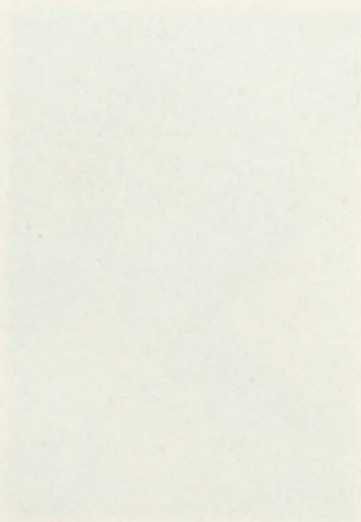

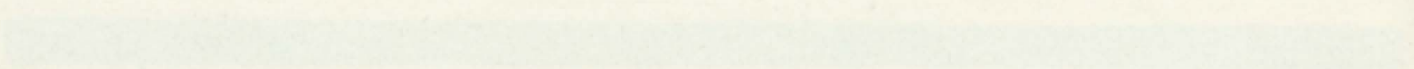

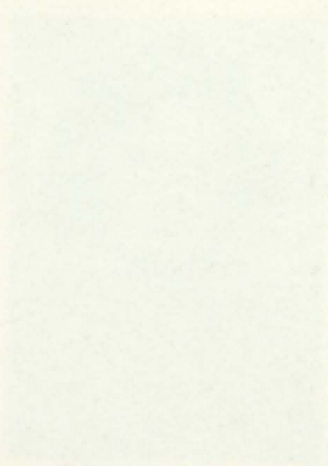

We can never thank her enough for the help she has given us.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

As we started on our journey through school in the year of 1944, five of the present members of the senior class were present. They were as follows: Agnes Joslyn, Jane Seaman, Donald Chesebro, David Dexheimer, and Harry Bourn. In the first grade we were joined by more of our present class. They were Elsie Harrington, Joseph Knoll, and Mahlon Davis; however, Mahlon left us again that year. In the second grade we were joined by Teddy Ingham and Wayne Westcott. In the third grade we received quite a large addition of students, who were Sylvia Loomis, Roberta Hill, Janette Burt, and John Merlino. We received no more new members until the fifth grade when we were joined by Arleta Abbey. We welcomed back Mahlon Davis in the seventh grade. In the ninth grade we received our last additions, Mary Scheidegger and Duane Constable.

We were very happy to receive our class rings in our junior year.

Now in the year of 1957 we have all climbed the last big step into the senior class at Guilford Central School. We have been very happy working together as a class toward our trip to Washington, D. C. Last, but not least, we are waiting for the final step--graduation!

STYING CLASS HISTORY

The first styling class was held in the year 1927. It was a very successful one and was well attended. The class was held in the evening and was very popular. The students were very interested and enjoyed the class very much. The class was held in the evening and was very popular. The students were very interested and enjoyed the class very much.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

The '57 graduating class of Guilford Central School was having a reunion in 1965, and, to our surprise, we came upon some of the most ridiculous occupations imaginable.

Here comes the one and only Wayne Westcott who is a big Romeo of the stage. He finally grabbed himself a girl. His wife and four children are in the theatrical profession with him.

Wow! Here comes the beautiful Miss Rheingold of 1965, the former Miss Elsie Harrington and now Mrs. Curtis Rolfe, who is making a name for herself as a model.

The door opens and who do we see but Mary Scheidegger, now Mrs. Donald Chesebro, worn out and tired of her job as garbage collector. This is the best she can do to support her husband, Don, who is the highest-paid baby sitter in the world.

No! But it is! Direct from the movies, Tarzan, the one and only Harry Bourn.

And who is the young man in uniform? Oh! It is the Lieutenant, Teddy Ingham, of the W. A. V. E. S.

Now our ears are assailed by the melody of our old Alma Mater being whistled by Dave Dexheimer. He is used to whistling while cleaning the sewers, because John has taken over his father's trucking business. Dave has gone underground to find a job.

"Comment allez-vous?" What! Who is that? It is the interpreter of foreign languages for the United Nations, John Merlino.

We look to see a big commotion being carried on by the actress Jane Seaman, newest discovery in the art of pantomime.

Now our eyes are drawn to the right by a big shiny star with the words, Game Warden. Apparently Duane Constable decided that he should be on the right side of the law for a change.

Through the door comes a small but well-proportioned girl who receives plenty of exercise from her practice of swimming across the Dead Sea. Yes, you're right. It is none other than the cute Sylvia Loomis.

We now turn our attention to Roberta Hill who is coach of the football team at Notre Dame and who also serves as a part-time maid for Keith Smith.

We finally decided that Janette, Agnes and Pete were not coming, so our hostess, Arleta Abbey, invited us all to sit down to one of her delightful dinners. Despite her proficiency as a dietician, she is still president of the Lonely Hearts' Club.

A lean figure dashes by us to sit at the head of the table. It is Joe Knoll wearing a Smalley's Theater usher's uniform. He is very happy in his job; all the girls notice him.

Arleta suggests that we have music with our dinner. Tuning in the new radio station WSKV, we hear the familiar voice of Agnes Joslyn, disc-jockey.

Suddenly the music stops. A voice comes over the radio which also sounds familiar. It is the owner of the station, Pete Davis, who is making a special announcement of a class reunion. Imagine our surprise when it turns out to be our own. This is Pete's way of apologizing for not being able to attend.

Just as we are about to begin eating, the door opens once again, and who should arrive but Mrs. Roy Gridley, the former Janette Burt. Janette had been delayed by business. Both she and her husband are kept busy managing their respectable trailer camp on Sunset Hill in Guilford.

The Class of 1957, in their usual spirit of friendliness and cooperation, made this reunion an occasion long to be remembered by all.

-Janette Burt

REVISION CLASS PROJECT

The following table shows the results of the revision class project. The data is presented in a clear and concise manner, allowing for easy comparison and analysis.

The table is organized into columns representing different categories and rows representing individual data points. This layout facilitates a thorough understanding of the project's outcomes.

The data indicates a significant improvement in the quality of the revised work, as evidenced by the higher scores and positive feedback received from the reviewers.

The results of the project demonstrate the effectiveness of the revision process and the commitment of the participants to achieving excellence in their work.

The project has provided valuable insights into the challenges of revision and the strategies used to overcome them, which can be applied to future projects.

The overall success of the revision class project is a testament to the hard work and dedication of the participants, who have shown a strong commitment to learning and growth.

The project has also highlighted the importance of seeking feedback and using it to improve one's work, a key principle of the revision process.

The results of the project are a clear indication of the value of the revision process and the impact it can have on the quality of one's work.

The project has provided a valuable learning experience for all participants, who have gained a deeper understanding of the revision process and its benefits.

The overall success of the revision class project is a testament to the power of revision and the commitment of the participants to achieving their goals.

The project has provided a valuable learning experience for all participants, who have gained a deeper understanding of the revision process and its benefits.

Mr. James Hamlin

Since the taking of our yearbook pictures we have had a new addition to our faculty. Our Music Department is now headed by Mr. Hamlin who replaces Miss Ullery.

Mr. Hamlin is from Cowdersport Pa. but he has been living in New York. He is a graduate of Duquesne University and of Teachers College Columbia University.

Mr. Hamlin has proved to be a fine addition to our school.
